

Innovative approaches

My two children have been attending ABC Day Nursery over the past four years. During their attendance I have had the opportunity to observe the professional nature and sincere concern that the staff have extended to their clients.

They have taken proactive approaches to the students' future curriculum needs, using innovative approaches such as Handwriting Without Tears. Each staff member has shown a genuine interest in the success of their students and uses a variety of techniques in order to address each student's unique learning style. I am also impressed with the level of support that the staff receives from their administrators.

As an educational assistant consultant I have had the privilege of observing a variety of learning environments and I would rate ABC Day Nursery among the top five. It is for these reasons and many more that I have recommended ABC to many friends who are looking for quality educational opportunities for their children.

Loving and nurturing

Words cannot express the gratitude we feel for the loving and nurturing environment that the staff at ABC has provided for our kids over the last 5 years.

Excellent Program

Our daughter Lily has had a very positive experience at the Lauzon ABC and has now entered the school system with a genuine enthusiasm for learning and a self confidence that we attribute to the excellent program her day care has provided.

We adopted Lily from China at 17 months of age, and although we found her to be a cheerful and courageous child, she suffered from malnutrition and chronic infections. At six months post adoption, we enrolled Lily in a highly regarded private day care/school. After several months of effort we found that she was not bonding well with her peers, was fearful, lacked confidence and did not seem to be able to achieve normal milestones with speech and toilet training. We began to have concerns that she may have significant delays related to her difficult start in life but wondered if a day care program with more structure may improve her chances.

We transferred Lily to ABC on February 1, 2006 and a remarkable change occurred. Within days, Lily began to speak, and was potty trained successfully. She learned the names of the teachers and fellow students and affectionately referred to them as her "friends". Lily has continued to excel, has begun to speak French as well as English and Mandarin, is taking piano, swimming and gymnastics and recently entered JK well prepared for the transition...not bad for a child we feared had significant delays. We believe that Lily's skills and confidence are in large part a testament to the dedication of the ABC teachers.

In Summary, we feel that ABC Day Nursery is an exceptional facility, due to the dedication of the staff and excellent administration. This team of professionals made a profound difference in our daughter's attitudes about school and about herself, and has provided her with a great educational start.

Like leaving them with family

It is going to seem very odd not to be going to ABC everyday! It's been such a part of our lives for so long now, over 11 years! I wanted to say thank you to you and the teachers...it has been incredibly comforting knowing my kids were in good hands while I was at work. I never worried; was never concerned for their well-being when they were there at ABC. It was almost like leaving them with family.

Care, attention and discipline

I could not find a card that expressed our gratitude for all your hard work so here goes...

Michaela & Mackenzie have enjoyed their time here so much and I truly feel that every staff member has played a huge part in the positive development of our girls. I tell everyone how comforting it is to drop your kids off and know they are getting the care, attention and discipline that they would get at home. My girls always showed enthusiasm for going to school and this left me with a good feeling each day.

Thank you so much for everything - the girls will miss you all very much!
